On June 9, 2020, at 2:30 p.m., the Board of Supervisors of the County of Sonoma conducted a public hearing to consider the Ordinance and adopted the Ordinance on June 23. The Ordinance makes the following changes to Chapter 13A of the Sonoma County Code:

1. The Ordinance exempts cannabis cultivation, agricultural crops, agricultural operations, agricultural buildings such as barns, hay barns, dairy milking facilities except for habitable dwellings and residential accessory structures.

The Ordinance requires climbing vines to be maintained to be free of dead and dying materials or removed from trees and structures. The Ordinance may also require additional defensible space outward to one hundred feet from all buildings based on steepness of the property, the amount of vegetation and the type of vegetation. A spark arrester must be installed on any chimney or stovepipe outlets. Street address numbers must be posted on the house as described in Sonoma County Code Chapter 13. Dead and dying vegetation must be removed from the property.
4. For unimproved parcels throughout the unincorporated area of the County, the Ordinance requires dead and dying vegetation within ten feet of structures and roadway frontage to be removed. The Ordinance also requires grass and combustible surface vegetation within ten feet of structures and roadway frontage to be trimmed to less than four inches in height unless necessary for erosion control. The Ordinance also requires trees within ten feet of structures and roadway frontage to be pruned to at least six feet above grade. The Ordinance requires all combustible material to be removed from the property.

5. The Ordinance clarifies the responsibility of property owners, occupants and persons in control of any improved or unimproved parcel of land in the unincorporated area of the County to comply with vegetation management as set forth in Chapter 13A to protect the health and safety of the community and the environment.
6. The Ordinance also clarifies that vegetation management in the Riparian Corridor Combining Zone streamside conservation area is subject to the allowed land uses, activities and permit requirements set forth in Chapter 26-65-040 of the Sonoma County Code. The ordinance requires the property owners to comply with all other federal, state and local laws, including environmental protection laws.
