Discussion:

National Farmworker Awareness Week takes place March 25- March 31, 2024. This annual celebration started in 1998 by a nonprofit organization called Student Action with Farmworkers (SAF). In 1999, the County of Sonoma Board of Supervisors enacted National Farmworker Awareness Week.

National Farmworker Awareness Week provides an opportunity for farmworker supporters across the country to honor farmworkers' important contributions and to raise awareness about the issues they face. It's important to continue to show awareness so that all generations learn where their food comes from and recognize how essential are farmworkers.
