People of the Kumeyaay Nation lived around the area's important water sources for millennia. They are a people whose traditional lifeways intertwine with a worldview of earth and sky in a community of living beings.

Matlahuayl is a Kumeyaay word meaning "land of caves" for which the area was traditionally called.

This land is part of a relationship that has nourished, healed, protected, and embraced the Kumeyaay people to the present day.
